WIDE MOVE SEEN

Big Industrial Centers in Plebiscite Area May Be Policed by Allies.

(By Associated Press.)
Oppen.—Detachments of the Royal Irish Infantry, the first British troops to cross the line into Upper Silesia, detached at Glewicz Monday. They assumed control of the garrisoning and policing. Machine guns had been located on the station by the Poles, but when the British appeared the Poles withdrew.

While these troops were on the way to the industrial center of Upper Silesia, General Von Hoerster, commander of German defense organizations, bluntly declined to comply with the French ultimatum to withdraw his forces from the front between Krapitz and Kozel, where the Poles have been driven back several miles. He promised, however, to prevent a further advance by the Germans "unless provoked by the Poles."

It is learned from British sources that the probable plan for pacification of Upper Silesia will be to garrrison all large industrial towns in the plebiscite area with British troops.

The British troops probably will extend their authority northward through the center of the plebiscite area as they proceed.

DAIRY INTERESTS WIN IN MADISON

Farmers Cheer Passage of Bill Prohibiting Manufacture of Filled Milk.

Madison.—Wisconsin dairy farmers scored their first victory when the senate Tuesday unanimously passed the bill in the senate, which prohibits the manufacture of filled milk.

Representatives of the condensed milk industry, who had been announced, after the vote, had been announced, after they would carry the fight to the supreme court of the United States, if necessary, to establish their right to operate in Wisconsin, producing filled milk.

Those who favored the bill, including representatives of farmers, organized farm publications and professors from the university, declared the dairy industry of Wisconsin was at stake. They said it was a battle between the dairy cow of the south and the milk can of the north. The measure in all likelihood will be signed by Governor Blair.

GOVERNOR'S DRY BILL INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

TAKES PLACE OF MATHE- SON ENFORCEMENT MEASURE.

SALES PROHIBITED

Home Brew for Home Consumption Saved; Unlimited Beer Prescription Allowed.

(By Associated Press.)
Madison.—Governor Blaine introduced his new prohibition enforcement bill in both houses of the legislature Tuesday morning.

The measure, which is to take the place of the Matheson bill, the section dealing with prescriptions, carries out the provisions of the message which accompanied his disapproval of the original bill.

The section dealing with the sale of liquor which accompanied his disapproval of the original bill, which does not prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for private purposes. The same barrier is as in the original bill. The search of dwellings is prohibited unless unlawful sale is established.

The federal Volstead act is supreme in all cases of difference between the state and the national enforcement measure. This interpretation saves the present measure in many details with prescriptions, so that no more than one pint of any kind of liquor could be prescribed in any one 10 days.

Penalty for drunkenness, as well as for illegal sale, is provided under the governor's bill. This provision limits the power of prosecuting authorities to secure evidence on which to base prosecution.

Revocation of license is called for unless all places with permits to sell light drinks remove all standing bars, stalls, screens, signs, and blinds from the village, wards, or common councils have the power to refuse licenses to persons they deem unfit.

The sections of the Matheson bill dealing with the enforcement of district attorneys and sheriffs, bearing the burden of putting provisions of the act into effect, should it become law.

Penalties remain the same in the governor's bill as in the Matheson bill. Manufacture or sale of flavoring extracts fit for beverage purposes is prohibited.

Policewoman Is Named by Mayor Welsh

Miss Margaret Kavanagh, Neenah, Wis., has been appointed special police officer by Mayor T. E. Welsh to fill the post of city policewoman here for 90 days, starting Monday. Her appointment will be brought before the council for confirmation Monday night.

The council has promised the Federation of Women that she will be provided with the same arms and equipment as the city hall.

Miss Kavanagh comes to Janesville highly recommended for the work. She has been an instructor in mathematics and science in Neenah high school for 20 years. Her appointment was recommended by the local Federation of Women.

This action conforms to the suggestion of Mayor Welsh at a recent council meeting. When A. L. D. Horn intimated that the fire and police commission was "playing horse" with the matter, the mayor announced that he would appoint a policewoman and have it confirmed by the council as long as the latter body had authorized the office.

She will be special police officer, not a regular member of the department. According to the regulations of the fire and police commission, any one is eligible to either department who has lived in the state a year and in the city 10 days.

GARBAGE SYSTEM IS WORKING WELL

Maxfield Says Complaints Are Dwindling to Be Almost Negligible Now.

"It's working fine," said Mr. Maxfield Monday. "This is Alvin Maxfield's reply to questions concerning Janesville's new garbage collection system now a little more than three weeks old. "We're having but little trouble," said Mr. Maxfield Monday. "The people as a whole are cooperating and are looking like the system would be a success. The collectors are fast getting adjusted to the work and soon will be familiar enough with it so they will know at just what houses to stop. Each time they stop, leaving semi-weekly collection should put their green cards in conspicuous places facing the street."

Five Men on Job.
Mr. Maxfield is now employing five men and is using two and a half tons of four trailers have been found too heavy for horses to pull on some of the hills on the east side so the city has had two of them equipped with brakes and a third is now at the Highway Trailer plant at Edgerton being fitted out similarly. The brake equipment comes extra, $90 per trailer.

The motor truck has been purchased by Mr. Maxfield to be used in hauling the trailers out of the city for dumping. Much of the garbage is taken to his farm where it is used as fertilizer for his crops. He is also taking the other to other farms in the immediate vicinity of Janesville.

Few Violate Ordinances.
"While at first we had trouble in getting people to put only dry garbage in their cans, this is gradually being done away with," said Mr. Maxfield. "We had a few cases where people were indignant when they were told not to put glass, cigar stubs, and other foreign substances in the cans. These are but rare instances, however."

Mr. Maxfield could offer no estimate at this time as to the amount of garbage collected. He said that the system is working advantageously for the service. "One feature of the system not generally understood is that the entire city is paying for it. It is those who are not having their garbage collected are the losers. It is being operated just like the public library, fire department or any department of the government; the taxes are paid by the city and the city is the one to pay for it."

For those desiring to ask questions about collections, Mr. Maxfield announces his telephone number is 2585 Bell, and 689 Rod, Rock County.

May Sidetrack Teachers' Fund

Madison—Wisconsin's teachers' retirement fund bill is in danger of being sidetracked indefinitely because of the row which has developed over the appropriation bill for $10,000 to pay part of the expenses incurred by the special interim committee in carrying out the bill.

Objections have been raised by the assembly to allowing the various bills on two grounds. First, members say that the bills were introduced through outside activities and local talent when state officials in the insurance department, the state board of education and the reference library represented enough expert talent to have drafted the bill without heavy expense.

Debate on the assembly floor developed the fact that the committee had been authorized to spend $5,000, but actually spent in the neighborhood of $15,000. Charges that the committee had exceeded its authority were pressed by Assemblyman Dahl and Caldwell.

The bill was killed in the assembly Friday, but re-consideration was moved Monday by Assemblyman Sumner. Mr. Sumner, as a member of the finance committee, desires an audit of the committee report, that the legislature may know just how the money was spent.

WISCONSIN LEADS IN DAIRY CATTIE

Federal Stock Figures Show Wealth of State. Other Farm Notes.

Wisconsin leads the world in the number of dairy cows, two years old and over with 1,795,122 according to the report of the department of commerce, bureau of census. This places Wisconsin as the second dairy state in the United States.

Wisconsin has 354,695 heifers between one and two years old and 503,356 calves under one year. This number is far in excess of any other state, indicating the premier importance of the dairy interest in this state and the need of development. New York and Minnesota are close behind Wisconsin.

Leads in Dairy Cows.
Wisconsin had 2,650,074 cattle on all farms in 1910 which was increased to 3,000,823 in 1920. The Badger state does not hold the lead in the total number of cattle, but easily holds the lead in the number of dairy animals. Five states have more than 2,000,000 cattle, including Texas with 2,400,000, Iowa with 2,367,708, Nebraska, 2,167,273, Wisconsin and then Minnesota with 2,021,469.

New York with 1,481,918, and Minnesota with 1,253,178 are close rivals of the Badger state in the number of dairy animals.

Census on Swine.
The total number of cattle in the United States in 1920 was 3,000,823. The Badger state holds the lead in the total number of cattle because of its great size and the number of range beef animals.

There are 35,454,458 beef cattle in the United States—the greatest supply in the world.

Wisconsin ranks tenth in the nation in the total number of swine, having 1,596,419. Iowa ranks first with 7,864,394.

The great swine raising districts are in the corn belt states, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma have shown a decided decline in the total number of swine raised.

FARMERS ASK CUT IN FREIGHT RATES

Nearly $1 Per Hog for Shipping—Can't Break Even, They Say.

Agriculture interests refuse to take an interest in the propaganda of "back to normal" when transportation costs, freight rates, continue to soar beyond reason. Along with the lack of market, freight rates form the big sore of the farmer in the eyes of the producers in Southern Wisconsin.

R. K. Overton well known farmer in Rock county last week shipped 86 hogs to the Chicago market. It cost him $70 to sell the hogs. This was freight rates and shipping charges. He received $8.10 per hundredweight just one half the amount he received for hogs sold July 10, a year ago. Yet the freight rates on the hogs at a reduction of 50 percent in price, was 40 percent higher.

The cost of producing the hogs sold at $8.10 was almost as great as those sold a year ago at $15.10 and this does not count the big jump in freight rates. Whatever profit that can be made by the farmer is lost to paying freight rates.

Stock produced in the last year to be sold now on the declining market made ready for the market with high wages, high taxes, high land and high feed costs.

"You cannot convince the farmers there are going to be normal times until transportation costs get down to lower figure," said Mr. Overton. "Just at the time when the farmer has a poorer market, the freight rates take a big jump. There is not a chance that the grower can ship his stock or products by freight and break even."

Movie Dream Fades; Leona Becomes Hobo

Oconto—With her funds exhausted and her dreams of becoming a movie queen shattered, pretty Leona Graham, 18, Oconto, Ill., has answered the call of the open road.

Special Agent Jacob Blue of the Northwestern road found her clinging to the brake rods of a blind baggage car, in company with four male companions. Blue turned her and her companions over to local authorities and to them she related the story of how she ran away from home to become a movie star, how her ambition had been thwarted by lack of funds and that of her taking to the life of a hobo.

Justice Donlevy communicated with the girl's parents and her father hurried to this city. Leona forgot her stage ambitions in a flood of tears on her father's shoulder and asked to be taken home. The four volunteer hobo teachers were given 25 days each in the Oconto jail.

LASKER ACCEPTS SHIPPING BOARD JOB

Agrees to Serve As Chairman After Putting Up Fight for W. C. Teagle.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.

Washington—Albert D. Lasker, Chicago, has accepted the chairmanship of the United States shipping board.

President Harding first offered the place to Mr. Lasker a fortnight ago, but the latter came to Washington and urged the president to appoint Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey.

Mr. Lasker believed Teagle knew more about shipping and the problems of the government than anybody else and was even willing to act as an assistant to Mr. Teagle in order to persuade the latter to take the job.

The president yielded to Mr. Lasker's advice and made a final effort to get Mr. Teagle. Everything was arranged satisfactorily when the man refused to take over Mr. Teagle's work in the Standard Oil company suddenly became ill and the doctors advised a prolonged trip to Europe.

Mr. Teagle could not therefore leave his work and declined the position.

Mr. Harding consequently fell back on Albert Lasker and insisted that the latter accept, as originally intended.

Mr. Lasker admitted he didn't know a thing about ships, but the president was of the opinion that technical assistance could be procured, so long as the man at the head of the shipping board was an organizer and a business man.

Has Peace-Making Habit. Mr. Lasker is president and owner of the Lord & Thomas advertising agency, but is one of the principal owners in many big business enterprises. He is a part owner of the Mitchell Car company, Quaker Oats, Van Camps, the Chicago Cubs baseball club, and several other companies.

He is the author of the famous Lasker plan by which the warfare in baseball, which developed last winter, was finally settled.

He has been successful in many other things, and has the happy faculty of being able to settle tangled problems without much fuss or feathers.

Throughout the last three years Mr. Lasker has stood beside Will Hays, a sort of man behind the gun. His advice and judgment, which won him millions of dollars of reward in the business world, were turned to politics. He made several trips around the country with Will Hays when the latter first started out to win congress for the republicans in 1918. He was a staunch supporter of Hiram Johnson for president and is said to have financed the latter's campaign at Chicago. After the convention, however, Lasker, alongside of Hays, continued his work for republican success, and was the genius of the republican advertising and publicity campaign last summer. In this work he frequently came in contact with President Harding, and won the latter's esteem and favor.

Prominent in Politics. Mr. Lasker is great in Illinois politics and is one of the principal supporters of Senator Joseph R. McCormick. As a business man his greatest faculty is quick decision and penetrating judgment. Many a big business concern has gone to him for advice. It is said that at 25 Lasker was

The number of traveling men has fallen off during the fore part of the week usually a time when the hotels are crowded. Other business has taken a slump, it is said.

At this time last year, the local hostesses predicted a dull which they lay to the extension of the period of business depression.

Both the Chicago & North Western and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads report that summer excursion traffic has not started. Both roads are running their summer service now but the cool weather of the past week is believed to have affected people's plans to start off for camp or resort.

For short journeys, the motor car has made an inroad into the summer business of the railroads. As new and better highways are opened, railroad men state that they note a gradual decline in passenger business on short hauls.

Rates Too High.

From the public's standpoint, the general explanation is that the 35 cent mile rate is too high. It is too high to do with the lightness in rail traffic. Traveling men especially who make a business of riding in trains declare that they find in their travel that the public makes only the necessary trips now whereas under the former rates they thought much less of considering how much it would cost to take a week-end jaunt.

OBITUARY

Ruth Gertrude Turville.

Friends are shocked over the sudden death of Miss Ruth G. Turville, 18, after an illness of only four days. She died at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, at the home of her parents, Messrs. Henry J. Turville, 333 Prospect avenue.

Ruth Gertrude Turville was born September 25, 1902, and spent her entire life in Janesville. She is survived by her parents.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home.

John D. Craig.

John D. Craig, 62, died at his home, 455 North Washington street, Tuesday morning at 6:30, after an illness of one day. He was an employee of C. H. & St. Paul shops, and was at Monroe yesterday. While in that city he was taken with neuralgia of the heart.

He was born in the town of Milton, December 12, 1858. The early part of his life was spent around Milton. He was married January, 1888 to Belle Davis of the town of Janesville, and to this union was born one son, Dallas, of this city. He is also survived by seven sisters.

He was a member of the local order of Moose and the Beavers. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the home.

WORTHINGTON GETS TWO MORE SPEEDERS

Deputy Sheriff Roy Worthington, county speed regulator, has made 30 arrests during his first three weeks on duty and has succeeded in minimizing fast driving on county highways. He made two arrests on the Janesville-Beloit highway Sunday night—Raymond Walcott, Rockford, and J. A. Cavell, Beloit, formerly of Janesville. Each paid a fine of $15 in Beloit municipal court Monday.

Worthington has been instructed to arrest all drivers going more than 30 miles an hour and going at a fast rate along danger points.

"FLOATERS" SLEEP ALONG RIVER BANKS

A steady decline is noted by Night Capt. Charles Dickinson in the number of "floaters" seeking lodging in the city lock-up. With the arrival of warm weather and the consequent outpouring of many of them along the banks of the river above the city, discontinuance of free breakfasts at the police station may have something to do with the decline.

WOODWORTH SEEKS AID OF CITIZENS

Cooperation of citizens in cleaning up breeding places was asked Tuesday in a statement by Dr. L. J. Woodworth, city sanitary inspector.

He also advised store owners to make their places rat-proof, as this is the time of year the greatest trouble is experienced with rodents. Rats are holding a carnival at Goose Island every night. Dr. Woodworth suggests residents spread there to kill a few of them, but points to the danger of dogs eating the poison. Outside toilets should be screened and improved and the lime, he stated. Manure piles should be removed from the city at least twice a week.

Mayor In Strong Protest Against Peterson Bill

Possibility of the passage of the amended Peterson bill providing separate tax levy by a school board and that boards shall no longer be obliged to submit budgets to the city councils and absolutely divorce all financial transactions and legislation from the council of the city, came to the mayor Tuesday morning from the secretary of the Wisconsin Municipalities organization at Madison.

Mayor Welsh immediately sent the following message to Assemblyman A. E. Matheson and Senator Ridgway.

It seems there is possibility of the passage of the Peterson bill giving the school boards full power in making budgets and handling funds. While the school boards of the state may be for it, and the school teachers who are paid from the public funds are lobbying for the bill, the taxpayers are certainly opposed. Isn't it time that the man who pays has some voice in these schemes? The councils of the cities are the authorized makers of budgets, the tax levy must be approved by that body, the taxes must be collected by the council and by its authority. The tendency of school boards is to run away with expenses. To remove that check on expenditures is to open the field for a wilder extravagance. Two taxing and spending bodies in a city are not to be thought of. They are opposed to good and economic government. Why not let the people have something to say in this matter? I know of no more dangerous or revolutionary legislation than this Peterson bill and hence your voice and vote will be raised against it. I speak for the Janesville people who pay in this matter."

Public Is Urged to Attend Y. W. C. A. "Housewarming" All This Week

Formal opening this week of the Janesville Young Women's Christian association quarters, on the third floor of the Gazette building, marks the realization of the aspirations of the women of this city of 15 years for the establishment of an organization providing clean recreation for young women.

It was in 1905 that a group of women met at the home of Miss Sue Jeffris, South Jackson street, to discuss the establishment of a Y. W. C. A. One reason it was not established at that time was owing to the policy of the Y. W. C. A. in not establishing an association in cities of less than 25,000.

Women Not Discouraged
The failure of this project did not discourage the attempts of Janesville women, however, as from time to time through various organizations an attempt was made to establish an organization for women. The establishment of the Y. W. C. A. here in 1921 was made possible through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the American Legion, the Gazette, combined with the efforts of all the women's organizations of Janesville.

The support given the organization is evidenced in the report of the treasurer in which it was shown that 1,000 people had contributed $10,000 for establishing and conducting the organization during the coming year.

Miss Barker President
The following is the complete organization of the Janesville Young Women's Christian association:

A member of the board of directors in conference with the by-laws is chairman of each committee.

They are as follows:

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam

CHAPTER LIX THE STRANGE

In order to reach the factory, Ruth had to walk through several streets past the odd-looking houses, the shabby lawns, the narrow, unpaved streets, the alleys of their houses, the cluttered yards, to reach the factory workers.

A little walk would have brought her to the factory, but she was not a factory worker. She was a girl who had no chance.

Beside the factory was a large vacant lot. The owners intended, in some prosperous time, to build a great big house on it. The ground was idle, but beautifully smooth and green.

And one day when the idea had taken shape in the mind of the owner, Ruth went to the factory. By this time she remembered her as the girl who had taken an interest in her. He passed her house on his way home and she had a feeling of acquaintance with her. In fact, he knew her as a girl not of the factory element—so when she went with her idea she found a ready listener.

"It's simply that I want them to know that you're a girl who is a play-actress for factory workers' children," she said. And went on to outline her plans. Ruth had been reading up on playgrounds for the past few days. She had seen the plans in the papers, and she talked like an experienced social worker.

A few dollars would do it. They should have swings, see-saws, some gymnastic stuff so they can develop their legs and arms, and a shallow pool to wade in on hot days.

"And, to her delight and amazement, when the manager took it up with the factory owner, Ruth was sent for to outline her idea again, and the playground was established. The owner even put up some young trees, so there would be shade in time—carefully keeping clear the space where the future factory would be built.

"You're not like these other girls. You'll get there," he said to her, and the remark made Ruth happy for days.

"Perhaps, something inside her said, 'perhaps' after all there was a chance! Perhaps she need not go on forever drudging, doing work with her hands when she knew her head was better than the average going home at night to a rooming house, when she longed for a place that was dainty and quiet.

But that little gleam faded as the days passed and nothing more happened. To be sure, the plan was there, the laughter and the cries of the children reached her as she sat at her table, even the fights of the small boys were a joy to her. This safe and pretty playground was her creation. It was an improvement over the streets. It was something she had accomplished. Something beside checking up the figures and the accounts, these dreary looking trials and computing their week's wages from it.

For she went on as before at $9 a week—and the only pain was that she had cluttered the figures and the accounts, these dreary looking trials and computing their week's wages from it.

One evening she came home worn out. She was not even thinking of the plan. She knew the plan was not yet married, or Mrs. Wood would have told her. She had simply cut

Benefit Show Given
Women teachers of the city started determined action to bring about the establishment of the Y. W. C. A. here last January when a provisional committee was organized and plans made for a benefit show and campaign for funds. Previous to this time, a representative of the national Y. W. C. A. had made a thorough survey of Janesville to get facts as to the necessity of such an institution.

The benefit show worked up by the Y. W. C. A. leaders and staged at the Myers and Asolo theaters, January 31 and February 1, was declared a big success by the two packed houses which saw it. A profit of $1,400 was realized on the production. A week's campaign was conducted following the show. With a budget of $12,000 for the first year as the goal for the drive, the public's response was so hearty that more than half again as much as was sought, was pledged.

Secrecy in Mind
With the big part of the task completed, the Y. W. C. A. was formally organized at a banquet at the Baptist church and incorporated under the Wisconsin laws. A board of 21 directors was elected with Miss Mary Barker, one of the hardest workers for a Y. W. C. A., as president. After considerable discussion, it was decided to rent and remodel the entire third floor of the Gazette building, formerly occupied by the automobile department of the Parker Pen company. Later Miss Edna Beardsley was engaged as general secretary. She has had considerable experience in this work in Massachusetts and other states.

Work of remodeling was completed several weeks ago and the directors have been waiting only the furnishings for the formal opening. These have now arrived and the equipment of the institution is practically complete.

Quarters Are Cozy
The quarters have been declared by national Y. W. C. A. officers to be among the best of any city the size of Janesville. The large reception and lounge rooms in the north half of the building are fitted up cozily with plenty of chairs, aavenport and player-piano. French doors add much to the pleasant appearance. In the south half, provision has been made for a large gymnasium, shower baths and other equipment. A kitchenette has been fitted-up for the serving of lunches. The walls and ceiling have been entirely redecorated and new hardwood floors have been laid throughout.

The entrance to the Y. W. C. A. is the one formerly used by the Parker Pen company.

Nelson Resigns as Treasurer of Bowling Association

QUITS JOB RATHER THAN SIGN CHECKS FOR PRIZE MONEY

Declaring that he refused to be a party to what he termed "an irregular proceeding," A. J. Nelson, who recently resigned as treasurer of the Janesville Bowling Association, has refused to sign checks for prize money. The resignation was accepted by the board of directors, 3 to 1. Frank Sinclair, sporting editor of the Gazette, was appointed to fill out the balance of the term.

Nelson's stand, while not accepted except under necessity for action, because the checks had been passed in the association since the season closed in April. Disapproving the decision of the majority of the officers and captains who had voted to suspend the rules of the J. B. A., and consider the City League season closed, as shown by the records of Secretary H. M. Lampert, Nelson refused to sign the checks. President Harry V. Ross had signed the warrants.

Declines to Issue Checks.

In a meeting held at the "Grey" Tuesday afternoon, Nelson again refused to issue checks. He stood pat on his own opinion, as against the will of the body of officers and captains.

Checks for the former treasurer will be turned over to the newly appointed officer Tuesday, together with a statement and all money. Prize money will be distributed within the next couple of days, or as soon as Sinclair can make a check of the books.

When checks are sent out, deductions will be made for the 85 cents the treasurer by the team that went to the national tournament at Buffalo. Under a recent decision, the members of this team will receive no prize money.

Prizes totaling $331.20 will be paid during the week.

Jack Weigh 20 Lbs. More Than Challenger

Atlantic City, N. J.—There will be a difference in weight of about 20 pounds when Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier meet off their bathtubs for the world's heavyweight championship match in Jersey City, N. J., Tuesday.

Dempsey, who is now weighing 260 pounds, is planned to weigh exactly 240 pounds in the ring. If he does he will be three pounds heavier than he ever has weighed for a fight.

As for growing a bit, and I am governing my weight accordingly," he said, "I think I will be at my best at 240 pounds and will be able to box at top speed. Carpentier, understand, will weigh about 170 pounds."

Dempsey is within seven pounds of the weight he hopes to reach. His legs are as thin as a lightweights and he is taking long walks on a road every morning to keep down surplus weight. There is not much evidence of surplus weight around his mid section, nor on his tremendous chest and back.

The champion did not box Monday and probably will not put on the gloves until Saturday.

CARP SHOWS MERCY TO POVERTY STRICKEN.

Manhasset, N. Y.—Georges Carpentier, when he steps into the ring at Jersey City, on July 2, will wear a white robe with figures of a Japanese design.

When he sheds the robe the blonde Georges will be seen wearing trunks of the same pattern that he has used in all his latest bouts. Pure white they will be with a blue stripe down the sides.

Though he is known in his native country as a "strong heart" because of the indomitable spirit and determination that has marked his long fighting career, Carpentier is now known as "tender heart" in Manhasset.

The battle lacked spectacular features. The champion did not show any of the spectacular work which characterized his battle with Richie Mitchell Jan. 14 at the Garden. He boxed largely on the defensive.

Badgers Win on Rollie's Homer

Rollie Williams of Edgerton hit into a home run Monday and the Badgers defeated Michigan, 7 to 0.

As a result the conference baseball title goes to Illinois with a half game lead over the Wolverines. Should Wisconsin be given the protest of the 18 inning game of Memorial day, she would be tied for second with Michigan.

The contest was exceptionally hard fought. Michigan took the lead in the first through a homer by Shackelford and again in the sixth on errors and a home run by Karp with two out. The Wolverines loosened and the Badgers swooped down behind the superb pitching of Padock.

Rollie also got a triple. Bill Lathrop of the Janesville Tractors umpired with Paddy Driscoll.
